Ann Anderson

Originally from Ohio, Ann has spent the last 25 years in Southwest Florida with her husband Charles, an internist. During this time Ann has worked and volunteered with non-profit organizations that promote the health and wellbeing of the physician family and the communities in which they reside. Her affiliations include the Florida Medical Association Alliance, the American Medical Association Alliance and Alliance Health Education Initiative. When not traveling to new places or visiting her grown daughters and extended family, Ann can be found volunteering at the Audubon Corkscrew Swamp Sanctuary.
